

Graduate – Project Engineer I

Join the industry leader to design the next generation of breakthroughs

As a Project Engineer at Honeywell, in Prague, Czech Republic, you will be responsible for assisting the Engineering Manager and Project Management Leader with the Technical delivery of assigned projects using value engineering.

We provide performance chemicals and materials, process technologies, and automation controls. By supporting the global transition towards renewable energy and low-carbon economy, we're accelerating a more sustainable future to help change the world. As pioneers of automation control, we understand complex industrial facilities, and how to create high-quality and high-performance chemicals and materials.

Safety, sustainability, and digitalization powering the future of chemicals, materials, and energy.

Key responsibilities

- Ensures that required prerequisites (e.g. design inputs, tools, documentation, deliverables, schedule, budget) are in place prior to commencing work
- Produces part(s) of total functional design specifications under supervision
- Executes work assignment to appropriate standards and quality systems (Implementation, Test & Documentation)
- Supports assigned engineer(s) to ensure they can meet the requirements of their work assignments
- Effectively communicates with customers to fully define and agree project requirements
- Reports progress and technical problems to project and engineering supervisor

Key skills and qualifications

- We are looking for a fresh graduate or student of Electronics Engineering, Control Engineering, Electrical Engineering who is in the final year of studies
- AutoCAD
- Fluent in English and Czech
- Self-starting, able to work with a minimum of supervision
- Able to work cooperatively and provide technical direction in a team environment

Our offer

- Opportunity to start a new career at globally recognized company
- Market-specific training and ongoing personal and professional development with support of experienced leaders
- Extra-week of holiday, semi-flexible working hours
- Benefit portfolio including meal allowance, pension insurance, Benefit Plus Cafeteria program, discounted phone tariff, Multisport card for free or discounted access to sports and leisure facilities, global partnership, and discounts and more

Join us now and become part of our journey - help us make the future!

#TheFutureIsWhatWeMakeIt

! Apply Here !

<https://careers.honeywell.com/us/en/job/HRD215685/Graduate-Project-Engineer-I>

